

BRAMBLE AND COULTOON

THEIR BOLSA CAVE ADVENTURE

Catherine Wilson Ruth MacLean

Mr McEnvy - for that was his name - paid the two ponies a visit. He leant over the gate at Coultoon farm and offered them some carrots.

"Did you ever go to the Bolsa Cave?" he asked them.

The ponies were enjoying the carrots.

"It's very wild in those parts," said Mr McEnvy. "Just a lot of deer and wild goat."

"Mind," he added cunningly, "You can still hear the piper who never found his way out of the cave."

Each of the illustrations is first drawn by Catherine Wilson, then translated into colour paper cut-out by Ruth MacLean
