

BRAMBLE AND COULTOON

THEIR SKY DRAGON ADVENTURE

Catherine Wilson Ruth MacLean

One day a mysterious mist swooped down on the island of Islay. It snaked over the sea, over the rocks and on to the land. Everyone stayed at home except two ponies who were not so sensible. Their names were Bramble and Coultoon.

They stood on the edge of Granny's Rock watching the mist come in. It twirled and it curled all around them. Bramble looked up and Coultoon looked down. Everything seemed so strange.

Sample pages from Bramble and Coultoon showing original pen drawings by Catherine Wilson, translated into colour paper cut-outs by Ruth MacLean and Catherine Wilson